- Timeworn Type Embossing Folder # 156505

- Dimensionals and Multipurpose Liquid Glue
- Envelope # 102619

Directions

1. Fold your Tahitian Tide Cardstock Base in half at 5 ½. Adhere the Basic White layer to the card base with liquid glue. Set aside.
2. Die cut solid lighthouse using Real Red Cardstock. Place the detailed lighthouse die on the white cardstock and die cut. Continue die cutting the top of the lighthouse in Basic Black and Silver to cut the catwalk railing. Die cut 2 birds and the cloud from the Waves Dies.
3. To assemble the lighthouse. Take the Real Red and cut off the top section of the lighthouse. Take the Basic White lighthouse adhere glue on the back side up to where the catwalk is. Line up the base of each lighthouse creating one single lighthouse. Take the black top lighthouse section and adhere it over top of the white one. Finish the lighthouse adhering the silver catwalk railing.
4. Stamp the front top layer - Tahitian Tide Cardstock with the wave stamp using Tahitian Tide ink. You only want about an inch and half of the big wave however you want the water to go across the bottom. Once the ink is dry emboss this layer using the Timeworn Type Embossing Folder
5. Stamp your sentiment in Night of Navy – mine is ½ x 2 ½ - I used Happy Birthday from Waves of Inspiration
6. Assemble the cloud by adhere the Gray Granite to the bottom of the cloud
7. Assembling the card front - Using dimensionals adhere the front top layer onto the Basic White. Take the cloud and see where to adhere it to the card front so you can see a little of the cloud when looking through the top of the lighthouse. Adhere cloud with glue. Using dimensionals adhere the lighthouse so you see the cloud. Add the birds with glue. Using dimensionals adhere the sentiment to the card. Take wink-a-stella and apply it over the waves to make the water look more real.
8. Inside Section – Stamp a sentiment - I added the Pelican from the Waves of Inspiration using Soft Suede ink along with Pumpkin pie & Crumb Cake light Stampin Blends.

I hope you enjoyed our adventure to “Lighthouse Point” today.
